

Just like you, each of our providers is unique, with individual strengths, skills, and personalities. What they share is a passion and commitment to helping people to heal and optimize their health. All of our acupuncturists are licensed by the State of California, which maintains the nation's highest standards of practice. Though each provider has specialized experience, they are all able to effectively treat a wide range of conditions.